PROFILE

Self-taught IT enthusiast who runs his own Linux server and daily-drives Arch Linux. Good at setting up systems, tracking down what's broken, and fixing it. Also learning web and app development through hands-on projects. Looking for remote roles in technical support, IT, or web development.

SKILLS

- Troubleshooting & Support: diagnosing OS, software, and network problems; remote support over SSH; reading logs and fixing config issues
- Systems: Linux (Arch, Alpine), Bash scripting, Docker, self-hosted services
- Networking: SSH, Tailscale, WireGuard
- Web (learning): HTML/CSS, JavaScript, Node.js, SQLite
- Other: Python, basic Kotlin, using AI tools to learn faster and debug
- Languages: Arabic (native), English (professional working)

EXPERIENCE

Personal Linux Server (Homelab)

- Set up and maintain a home server running 8+ Docker services (photo backup, cloud storage, automation, media streaming, private search, local AI)
- Manage and monitor it remotely over SSH with my own command-line tools
- Fix problems as they come up: service crashes, networking, updates, backups

Linux Desktop & Systems Work

- Run Arch Linux as my main system and customize it heavily
- Currently building Linux From Scratch to learn how an OS works from the bottom up

LEADERSHIP

Team Lead, University Entrepreneurship Project (2026)
Led a 10-person team from the business pitch to running a live sales stall on campus.

LEARNING PROJECTS

Built to practice and still improving:

- Bilingual Arabic/English perfume store (Node.js, Express, SQLite)
- Restaurant point-of-sale system (Electron, WebSockets)
- Game-card website for a client (HTML/CSS)
- Expense tracker app and CLI calendar assistant (in progress)

EDUCATION

Universiti Geomatika Malaysia (UGM), Centre of Foundation Studies (in progress)
Includes Basic ICT, Mathematics, Physics, English, Principles of Management
